DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12 June 2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-16 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

All rejections to claim 1 below also apply to claim 19.

In claim 1, it is unclear what is meant by the recitation, "detachable/attachable" in line 8. Does this mean detachable or (xor) attachable? Does this mean detachable and attachable? Does this recitation have some other meaning?

The phrase "is not coarse" in claim 12 is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Trask, et al. (U.S. 5,116,034) ("Trask").

Claims 1 and 19: first stacking portion (26); second stacking portion (34); base member (20); tray (34); guide groove (54, 50, and 52); recording unit (column 1, line 7).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 1-11 and 19-20, as understood by the Examiner, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hewlett-Packard OfficeJet 600 Series Device ("HPOJ"; see "Examiner's Exhibit A" in the Office Action dated 12 March 2007) in view of Trask. HPOJ discloses:

Claims 1, 2, and 19: first stacking portion (3B; see the attached "Examiner's Exhibit A", page 3, letter B); second stacking portion (3C); base member (structure that connects 3C to 3B); (NOTE: in lines 7-10, the conditional phrases ("when") are construed such that they do not occur.)

Claims 1, 2, and 19: supplying roller (NOTE: there is implicitly a roller provided in HPOJ; either the first stacking portion or the second stacking portion is supplied by the supplying roller, but not necessarily both);

Claims 3 and 4: sheet supplying route blocking means (2D); an end portion of the sheet (4D); a sheet supplying route (3G);

Claim 5: a regulating portion (24);

Claim 6: second stacking portion (3C);

Claim 7: guide means (2C);

Claims 8: a shape protruding on the upstream side (2C);

Claims 9 and 10: cover means (3H);

Claims 11: regulating means (3J);

Claims 20: an inkjet type (5B).

HPOJ does not directly show a tray with a guide groove.

Trask shows a similar device having a tray with a guide groove (34 with 54, 50, and 52) for the purpose of provide an improved, automatic, envelope/sheet feed mechanism (column 1, lines 48-50). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to modify HPOJ as taught by Trask and include Trask's similar device having a tray with a guide groove for the purpose of provide an improved, automatic, envelope/sheet feed mechanism.

Claims 1 and 12, as understood by the Examiner, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jang (U.S. 6,315,280) in view of Trask. Jang discloses:

Claim 1: first stacking portion (21); second stacking portion (11); supplying roller (31); base member (structure that connects 11 to 21);

Claim 12: a final limit forward portion (53); a protruded portion (24).

Jang does not directly show a tray with a guide groove.

Art Unit: 3653

Trask shows a similar device having a tray with a guide groove (34 with 54, 50, and 52) for the purpose of provide an improved, automatic, envelope/sheet feed mechanism (column 1, lines 48-50). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to modify Jang as taught by Trask and include Trask's similar device having a tray with a guide groove for the purpose of provide an improved, automatic, envelope/sheet feed mechanism.

Claims 13, as understood by the Examiner, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over HPOJ in view of Trask and further in view of Jang and Watanabe, et al (U.S. 5,109,236) ("Watanabe"). HPOJ teaches all the limitations of the claim as discussed above. HPOJ does not directly show a sheet type discriminating sensor or a tray position detecting sensor.

Watanabe shows said sheet type discriminating sensor (1, 2) for the purpose of determining the type of the sheets (entire abstract). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to modify HPOJ as taught by Watanabe and include Watanabe's index sheet type discriminating sensor for the purpose of determining the type of the sheets.

In addition, Jang shows a tray position detecting sensor for sensing whether documents are loaded (abstract, line 4). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to modify HPOJ as taught by Jang and include Jang's tray position detecting sensor for sensing whether documents are loaded.

Claims 14-16, as understood by the Examiner, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over HPOJ in view of Trask. HPOJ teaches all the limitations of the claims as discussed above. HPOJ does not directly show an index on the first stacking portion as a line or a character.

HPOJ shows said index on the first stacking means as a line or a character for the purpose of indicating the size of the sheet (3E). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to modify HPOJ as taught by HPOJ and include HPOJ's index as a line or character on the second stacking means for the purpose of indicating the size of the sheet.

Claims 18, as understood by the Examiner, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over HPOJ in view of Trask and further in view of Teo, et al (U.S. 6,942,211) ("Teo"). HPOJ teaches all the limitations of the claims as discussed above. HPOJ does not directly show a cover member or a sub cover member.

Teo shows said cover member (108) and sub cover member (120) for the purpose of folding up out of the way when necessary (column 2, line 52). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to modify HPOJ as taught by Teo and include Teo's cover member and sub cover member for the purpose of folding up out of the way when necessary.

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16 and 18-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
